

NINE PPI National Radio Award Nominations for Radio Kerry

9th September 2009

Radio Kerry has been short listed in eight categories, receiving nine nominations, in this year's national PPI Radio Awards.

The prestigious awards, sponsored by PPI, recognise the best in Irish radio and include local, national, regional and Northern Ireland stations. The 2009 award ceremony will take place on Friday October 2nd at the Lyrath House Hotel, Kilkenny

Radio Kerry has received nominations in the following categories:

Specialist Music Programme	The Global Village – JJ O Shea That's Jazz – Brian Priestley
News Story	The Day the Earth Moved – Kielduff Bog slide
Current Affairs Programme	Who's Serving the Sentence – Kerry Today
Drama	The Passion of Christ - Horizons
Specialist Speech Programme	Sive – 50 Years On – Deirdre Walsh
Community Social Action	Wise Words – Media Course
News Reporter of the Year	Anna Curtin
Sports Broadcaster of the Year	Weeshie Fogarty

It is a record number of PPI National Radio Nominations for Radio Kerry coming on the back of another set of great JNLR/MRBI listenership results last month.

Speaking after the short list was published Radio Kerry General Manager, Fiona Stack, said it is a remarkable achievement and means that Radio Kerry is ranked among the top broadcasters, national and local, across 32 counties and across multiple areas of programming. She paid tribute to the all the staff members involved.

Radio Kerry has received 30 PPI nominations and six PPI Radio Awards since 2005 including the top award, Local Radio Station of the Year, in both 2005 and 2007, two silver and 4 bronze awards.
